BLACK-DRAUGHT STOCK & POULTRY MEDICINE

This great stock medicine is a money saver for stock raisers. It is a medicine, not a cheap food or condition powder. Though put up in coarser form than Thedford's Black-Draught, renowned for the cure of the digestion troubles of persons, it has the same qualities of invigorating digestion, stirring up the torpid liver and loosening the constipated bowels for all stock and poultry. It is carefully prepared and its action is so healthful that stock grow and thrive with an occasional dose in their food. It cures hog cholera and makes hogs grow fat. It cures chicken cholera and roup and makes hens lay. It cures constipation, distemper and colds in horses, murrain in cattle, and makes a draught animal do more work for the food consumed. It gives animals and fowls of all kinds new life. Every farmer and raiser should certainly give it a trial.

It costs 25c. a can and saves ten times its price in profit.

PITTSBURG, KAS., March 25, 1904.
I have been using your Black-Draught Stock and Poultry Medicine on my stock for some time. I have used all kinds of stock food but I've found that yours is the best for my purpose.

ANIMALS' WANDERINGS.

Rats the Most Migratory—Lemmings Race With Death.

The fable of the country mouse and the town mouse has a foundation in fact. Mice occasionally migrate in large numbers when food grows scarce and travel considerable distances to fresh houses. Farmers in a part of Perthshire had a good reason to become aware of this fact when a couple of years ago vast swarms of mice invaded their cornfields at harvest time.

But the mouse only travels when it has to. The rat, on the contrary, seems to take a yearly outing in very much the same fashion as do human beings. Rats are the most migratory creatures in the world. Whole troops of rats leave the towns at the end of summer and spend a month or two in the country, apparently in order to enjoy the change of food, which the county affords at that time of the year in the way of fresh fruit and grain. Before the cold weather sets in they are all back in their old quarters.

Reindeer migrate with the same regularity as swallows. They move south when winter sets in, but as soon as ever the snow begins to melt they travel steadily north, sometimes for as much as a thousand miles.

To end a holiday by deliberate suicide is so strange a phenomenon that for a long time naturalists looked upon the stories of the migration of the lemmings as an improbable fiction. Yet the facts are beyond dispute. At irregular intervals these rat-like creatures start out from their homes in the fastnesses of northern Scandinavia in huge droves, numbering tens of thousands, and travel steadily southward. Death pursues them in a hundred forms. Hawks and other birds of prey hover above them. Foxes, wolves and man decimate them. Thousands are drowned in rivers. Yet the rest struggle on until they reach the sea. They do not stop. They plunge in, swim out and struggle on until at last their strength fails and they drown. Not one ever returns from this journey of death.—London Answers.

POINTED PARAGRAPHS.

When an attorney offers to settle, listen.

Some men try to get business by fighting people.

The successful business man is one who knows what people will not do.

When a man gets discouraged and quits, the doctor says afterward that that was just the time when he should have held on.

When one of the town boys marries an out of town girl it creates more "feeling" than when a town girl imports a husband.

When a man wants to sharpen a knife he hunts up a whetstone. When a woman wants to sharpen a knife she takes a few swipes on a crock.

It often happens that the woman who has a reputation far and wide as a judge of a good bargain seems to fall down when she picks out a husband.—Atchison Globe.

Mediaeval Monarchs.

Almost every mediaeval monarch claimed the whole or a part of the dominions of almost every other and insisted on inserting his claim in his list of official titles. In treatises and all official documents the whole list was religiously copied, and as it often happened that the two negotiating monarchs had some of the same titles it became usual to insert a clause in the list, non praejudicando, in order to indicate that, no matter how absurd, inappropriate or untrue were the titles, they were understood to be inserted because they pleased the monarch who claimed them, that they did not confer a valid claim, and so no harm was likely to result from their use.

An Ingenious Scheme.

A story is told of a Chicago girl whose verses were always "declined with thanks" who hit upon the following unique plan for having them published. She would send a line of verse from one of her poems to the query column of some newspaper and ask from what poem such a line came, the name of the poem and of the author. A friend, also a rhymester, would send the querist's own poem to the paper with the desired information, and of course it would appear in print. The querist would do the same for the friend and so on until between them they had all their "poems" printed.

Feathered Barometers.

There are lots of birds which prophesy rain and storm in their actions. Crows, gulls, wild duck, snipe, plovers, woodpeckers, cormorants, wild and tame swans and most of the wading birds show great restlessness when stormy weather is approaching. They fly swiftly and often aimlessly up and down, fluttering from tree to tree and place to place, and usually scream loudly and harshly.—Nature.

Violated the Rules.

Assistant—Here's an account from your tailor among this morning's letters. He writes on the back that he wants a settlement at once. Editor—Return it with a printed slip stating that communications written on both sides of the paper are unavailable.

An Inherited Quality.

Mike (the cop)—Faith, an' phwat an ould fashioned kid thot is! Katy (the nurse)—Shure it is. An' no wondher thot she is, fer some av her ancistors lived nearly 400 years ago.—Judge.

Signs.

Gayboy—I guess my wife expects visitors today. "What makes you think so?" "He began the day by making the house unfit for any one to live in."—Life.

FRENCH CONSCRIPTS.

Marked by Bad Clothes and an Absence of Baggage.

"They are a curious crowd," says a writer describing the conscripts of the French army, "these boys of twenty and of twenty-one, in various stages of sobriety, as they throng on to the platforms of the railway stations and, under the fire of gentle and superior sarcasm from the young men in uniform who have already done a year or two, climb into the third class cattle pens which are to take them to the threshold of their lives in barracks. The sons of wealthy men elbow the scourings of the street.

"All wear their worst clothes, except those who do not possess a second suit. The chief peculiarity about the whole of them is an entire absence of luggage. A young friend of by own was one of them. His luggage for the two days of his first visit to Paris consisted of a comb and an extremely aged toothbrush, and before leaving Paris he asked me to keep his overcoat for him till he returned. 'They will only spoil it, and it is a new one,' was his plea.

"I counted the valises of a whole train load of conscripts who accompanied my friend, and they numbered exactly four. 'Those four will have their lives teased out of them tomorrow,' was the verdict of a private under arms upon the platform."

ANIMAL STRIKERS.

Both Birds and Beasts Occasionally Refuse to Work.

Both birds and beasts occasionally go on strike, according to observers. A herd of horses will bunch together, neglect their food, become restive, neigh and rub noses when in a field. The outcome is that the herd will not allow themselves to be saddled or harnessed and will chase and attempt to kick the attendants. Female birds take tantrums and refuse to do the housework. They desert their nests and leave their eggs to become cold and barren. The male naturally becomes greatly concerned, but with the bird and beast creation the male will never attack the female, so there is no remedy. Warblers and starlings are given greatly to these strikes.

A species of black ants have little yellow ants which do most of their work for them. Occasionally the yellow species will go on a strike. Their food supply is cut off, but if that does not avail the strikers are attacked or another lot of yellow ants are secured.

Even the rabbit is a hardened striker. In rabbit colonies the stronger rabbits do most of the burrowing, and as often as perhaps once in two years these become discontented and refuse to work.

BOILING WATER.

Why a Redhot Poker Does Not Cause It to Hiss.

If a redhot poker be thrust into cold water it hisses and sputters; if into boiling water, there is no commotion.

When in the first experiment cold water comes in contact with the hot iron there is a sudden and explosive generation of steam, which causes the liquid to be scattered with a hissing noise, consequent upon the bursting of innumerable bubbles.

When, on the other hand, a poker is thrust into boiling water, which is already freely giving forth steam, the introduction of the hot iron by still further assisting steam production causes the poker to become at once surrounded by a sheath of vapor, which effectually prevents the water from coming into actual contact with the metal.

This sheath of vapor is comparatively a bad conductor of heat, so that but little passes from the iron to the water. There is no commotion, and the poker can be withdrawn still glowing brightly.—London Answers.

An Irish King of Portugal.

An Irishman was once king of Portugal, or at least he once ruled in the king's stead over that country. In November, 1640, there was a revolution in Portugal, brought about by the tyrannical exactions of Miguel Vasconcellos, the secretary of state. The hated minister was shot and the vice queen, Margaret of Savoy, abdicated. The crown was offered to the Duke of Braganza, who was living at Villavicosia. Meanwhile, until the duke should accept the crown, the people of Lisbon elected a popular and influential Irish merchant, named John Darcy, who resided in the city, as their nominal king. Darcy accepted the honor conferred upon him and bore the title of "king of Portugal" from Dec. 1 to Dec. 6, 1640.

Living Stones.

The visitor to the Falkland isles sees scattered here and there singular shaped blocks of what appear to be weather beaten and moss covered bowlders in various sizes. Attempt to turn one of these bowlders over, and you will meet with a real surprise, because the stone is actually anchored by roots of great strength; in fact, you will find that you are trifling with one of the native trees. No other country in the world has such a peculiar "forest" growth.

Hopeless Case.

"Do you enjoy classical music?" asked the young woman.

"Yes, miss," answered Mr. Cumrox; "I enjoy it much, but I never can get over the idea that the tunes would sound better if they were played by a mandolin or banjo club."—Washington Star.

Nearer the Mark.

Briggs—Do you believe that the world is divided into two classes—those who borrow and those who lend? Gregory—No, sir; my experience is that two other classes are much more prevalent—those who want to borrow and those who won't lend.

THE KING GANDER.

Don't Shoot Him or You'll Get as Crazy as a Coot.

Never hear tell of a king gander, I s'pose? No; most folk hain't. The sharps that write the bird books says there ain't no such thing, but I know better. I've seen one.

There ain't never but one king gander at a time, same's a country never has but one king at a time, but a king gander's a real king, that's what he is. It ain't jest because he's the biggest gander of any or the knowin'est. It's somethin' more. He's kind of a sacred gander, he is, and there ain't a wild goose that flies but knows it. He's captain of 'em all, an' it's only the pick of the geese that flies with him.

Ner that ain't all neither. What do you s'pose became of that big king gander Bill shot? Ever hear of a dead gander bein' carried off by his flock, restin' on their backs an' them a-honkin' out a reg'lar buryin' dirge? Well, I've said enough. Fact is I've said all I dare say.

But I tell you this: If ever you have a chanst to shoot a king gander don't you do it. 'Tain't good luck. If you don't believe it look at my brother Bill. He killed one—leastways he shot him—and then what happened? Only the Lord and Bill Huckins knows. An' Bill 'll never tell. Why not? 'Cause he's been as crazy as a coot ever since—yes, sir, crazy as a coot!—Outing.

FOOD AND WEATHER.

Why People Eat More In Winter Than They Do In Summer.

It has been shown that the consumption of food increases in direct proportion to the decrease in temperature. We eat more in winter than in summer, and the inhabitants of the temperate regions require more food than those of the tropic zone.

This is due to several causes. In the first place air is denser in colder climates and more oxygen is taken in with each breath, so that a greater supply of carbon—derived from food—is necessary in order that the two gases may combine in their proper proportions for the maintenance of bodily heat. Again, the inhabitant of a cold climate usually has to work harder than the more fortunate southerner, whose wants decrease as nature becomes more generous. The harder the daily labor the greater the amount of food required.

Climate not only affects the quantity but also the quality of the food consumed. The Eskimo could not live upon the dainties of nature which load the tables of the poorest in the tropics, for the conditions of his existence require the consumption of an enormous amount of fatty matter, so that blubber is to him a chief necessary of life.

THE CHRYSANTHEMUM.

The first chrysanthemum show was held in Norwich, England, in 1829.

The Philadelphia Horticultural society held the first chrysanthemum show in the United States in 1883.

The first chrysanthemums brought to Europe were taken from China by skippers of the tea trading ships.

After the chrysanthemum is potted leave it for a little time in the shade. Then give it all the sun that is possible.

The chrysanthemum was introduced into England 200 years ago from China. It was grown first in Holland after its emigration.

The chrysanthemum is one of the easiest of garden flowers to grow, but it needs careful tending after it is brought into the house in pots when the frost comes.

The Change of a Name.

How family names change in the course of many years is illustrated by the conversion of "Boteville" into "Thynne." An English deed bearing date in the closing days of the fifteenth century shows three brothers then flourishing—John Boteville of Boteville and Thomas and William Boteville. The trio are distinguished from all other Botevilles by the explanation "of the Inne," or family residence, the title to which had come to their joint possession. John's grandson was known as Ralph Boteville-of-the-Inne, from which the transition to Ralph Thynne is easy. His descendants have been Thynnes ever since.

Compromising.

Charles—She is suing her late employer's estate for $50,000. Henry—On what ground? Charles—On the ground that on four different occasions he said to her, "We are having fine weather," with the accent on the "we."—Brooklyn Life.

A Broad Hint.

The Barber (lathering customer and gazing out of window)—I tell you, sir, the man who shaves himself keeps the bread and butter out of some poor barber's mouth. The Customer (fiercely)—And incidentally the lather out of his own!—Puck.

A Big Gorge.

Mrs. Newrich (back from the honeymoon in Switzerland)—Do you remember, dear, that lovely gorge up in the mountains? Mr. Newrich—I do. It was the squarest meal I ever ate.

Self respect is the cornerstone of all virtue.—Sir John Herschel.

How Southern California Knocks the North.

It has developed that Los Angeles in particular and Southern California in general not only toots her own horn but also knocks other sections of the State in order to give the impression to tourists that Los Angeles is the one glorious spot in all California. In her anxiety to boom up her section she resorts to methods that, to say the least, are unfair. In the Board of Trade rooms in Los Angeles business houses of Napa and our own Santa Rosa are depicted with snow and icicles upon them, showing the marked contrast between the sunshine of Southern California and the bleak weather of Northern California days. Eastern people are so swamped with laudatory literature of Southern California and so stuffed with accounts of the rest of the State that they have a false impression of things as they really exist. Northern California is bound to come to the front as she becomes better known but it will take time. Those few who stray into our realm of beauty are entranced, but the object of the promoters of the South is to get people from the East to Los Angeles and there to anchor them until they invest in orange groves and homes. Many are entrapped as well as entranced and when they later discover the beauties beyond are sorry for it. Southern California evidently believes that all is fair in love and war and advertising but she should be contented to shout her own praises and leave the North alone.

All who are acquainted with conditions here know that it is a remarkable occurence when snow falls and icicles form, yet to look at the pictures that hang in the Board of Trade room in Los Angeles a stranger might believe it to be an every day occurence here. How to correct the false impressions which result is hard to say unless we confiscate these pictures.

We can stand on our own laurels if the play is fair, and all we ask is fair play.

AGUA CALIENTE SPRINGS.

Mr. and Mrs. Theo. Richards, the popular proprietors of Agua Caliente Springs, anticipate a lively season this summer and already applications are pouring in for accommodations at their famed resort.

Any one who has visited Agua Caliente under the present management knows that Mr. and Mrs. Richards can cater to the highest class trade, for everything that nature can provide in medicinal hot springs, climate and scenic beauties is here combined with all that money can supply in the way of commodious buildings, bathing facilities and furnishings.

Here is what a well known traveler has said of Agua Caliente "At the meridian of California's golden age when "all the world wondered" at the stupendous wealth discovered by the early Argonauts in the gold diggings, but little then was thought of the manifest destiny of the West of the West—of other natural wealth besides gold—that it was to be advertised every where as the world's sanitarium, the best climate in America, the multitudinous resources of agriculture which can produce every thing that grows anywhere, where the ill and infirm may come nearer to a manifestation of the Fountain of Youth than anywhere else. All this was yet to be fully recognized, and now at the dawn of a new century we find all this realized. Fierce winter, with its attendant terrors of floods and tornadoes, are here unknown. Here, too, is an area larger than all New England, which can, in case of famine elsewhere, find all its wants within its own boundaries.

Those who "do" Europe and are "done for" in return should bear in mind that the best things are nearest and should explore their own country first. The mineral springs of California alone are better than those of all Europe.

The writer happens to be at one of the best Hot Sulphur Springs resorts in the State—the Agua Caliente—the first from the centre of population forty-six miles from San Francisco near the town of historic Sonoma, which ranks with Monterey as the oldest town in the State. The hotel and cottages accomodates two hundred and fifty guests. The genial proprietors, Mr. and Mrs. Richards, recognising the need of more room have constructed a massive stone building which combines all modern improvements. Here is the largest hot sulphur swimming tank in the State. These waters will, by the aid of correct living, dispel rheumatism and sluggish diseases of the blood. The landscape beauty of this place is unrivalled, and resembles the famous country of Kent in England. Its flower-bedecked fields, rolling hills and natural parks seem to say "wont you come out and play?" Early springtime is the equal to the southern part of the State for balminess and wild flowers. The temperature in summer never exceeds 95 in the shade and is all together a most desirable place. Its close proximity to San Francisco makes it the favorite resort within the realm of the "glorious climate of California." W. W.

CALENDAR DAY IN SUPERIOR COURT

A resume of the calendar day proceedings in the superior Court on Monday is as follows:

In Department One, Judge Seawell, presiding, the will of the late Leroy V. Hitchcock was admitted to probate and J. A. Barham and Benjamin Hitchcock were named executors in a bond of $85,000.

Alfred Sidney Gibbens was appointed executor of the will of Robert Lee Gibbens in a bond of $18,000.

A family allowance of $40 per month was granted from the estate of Archibald Brown Higgins.

Edwin W. Gillan was named administrator on the estate of Sarah M. Gillan.

The first account was settled and allowed of the estate of George Steiger and other minors.

Distribution was ordered of the estate of Frank M. Harrison.

A sale of real estate and personal property of the estate of Frank Berton was confirmed.

An order to sell realty of the estate of Maragaret G Ross was granted. A bond of $1,400 was required.

The matter of the contest of the will of Charles Sanders was continued to February the 27th.

The trial of the action of Carrington vs. Henry was set for March 4th.

The suit of Canevascini vs. Canevascini was submitted and taken under advisement.

The demurrer was overruled and ten days allowed to answer in the action of Clewe vs. the California Central Gas and Electric Company.

The suit of Emile Spaich vs. John Spaich was continued to Feb. 27th.

Reappointed Postmaster

J. M. Cheney has been reappointed Postmaster for Sonoma by President Roosevelt. Mr. Cheney, who has held the office for four years, has made the best Postmaster Sonoma has ever had.

WHO WILL SECURE THE PRIZE?

About a year and a half ago the American Grape Acid Association offered a prize of $25,000 for the best and most practical commercial formula and process for making cream of tartar from grapes. About 375 formulas have been submitted. They have been sent in from all over the world. The jury consisting of Percy T. Morgan, Charles Bundschu, Prof. E. W. Hilgard, A. Schelling, C. de Guigne and A. Sbarboro, are now going over the proposals sent to them. It is expected that the result will be announced in about forty days. Several Sonoma county grape growers and wine makers sent in formulas and the award of the committee is being awaited with interest, as stated, all over the world.

Consumption

¶ There is no specific for consumption. Fresh air, exercise, nourishing food and Scott's Emulsion will cure it, if there is anything to build on. Millions of people throughout the world are living and in good health on one lung.

¶ From time immemorial the doctors prescribed cod liver oil for consumption. Of course the patient could not take it in its old form, hence it did very little good. They can take and tolerate it for a long time. There is no oil, not excepting butter, so easily digested and absorbed by the system as cod liver oil in the form of Scott's Emulsion, and that is the reason it is so helpful in consumption where its use must be continuous.

¶ We will send you a sample free.

¶ Be sure that this picture in the form of a label is on the wrapper of every bottle of Emulsion you buy.

SERIOUS FIRE AVERTED AT HOME

Flames Discovered in Feeble Minded Institution and 200 Inmates Taken Out on Fire Escape.

What might have been a very serious conflagration was averted at the California Home for Feeble Minded Children at Eldridge by the timely discovery of the flames and the effective fire fighting which confined them to the lower floors.

Fire was discovered at about 2:30 A. M. on Saturday by an attendant who smelled smoke and who upon rushing into the corridors found the linen room in a blaze.

The fire alarm was at once turned in but, as the system was a new one, it was some time before the meaning of it dawned on the sleeping attendants. All were finally aroused, however, and hurried to the floors above, where one hundred and nine girls had to be gotten out. By this time the smoke in the halls was so dense that it was impossible to get the inmates out by the stairways so the fire escapes were brought into use and the patients safely gotten out and transfered to other quarters in the building.

Meanwhile the fire was being fought and was extinguished after damaging the institution to the extent of about $1 000. Much credit is due the attendants for the excellent way they handled the children in the crisis. The discipline was excellent.

Ladies Attend Their Club.

There was a good attendance at the meeting of the Sonoma Valley Woman's Club on Saturday afternoon last. Mrs. Robert Hill presided and all the other officers were present.

It was reported that the club piano had not yet been rented although an effort will be made by the committee to dispose of it. The president reminded the club of the special meeting today for the opening of bids for the fountain.

It was reported that the giving away of the dolls remaining from the doll show had given much pleasure to the deserving children who received them.

The treat of the afternoon was the report on the Federation meeting in Los Angeles by the club's delegate, Mrs. Stearns. Her account of the session was much enjoyed, being a spicy resume of the proceedings. Mrs. Hill also gave a very interesting account of the session.

The members were reminded that at the first meeting in March new officers will be elected.

Mrs Robert Hill suggested that we follow the Vallejo Club's plan of offering a prize to the High School students for debating. It was also reported by the president and delegate who attended the Federation meeting that the club's reciprocity day is talked about all over the State.

The afternoon was thoroughly enjoyable.

Citrus Fair Largely Attended.

There was a large delegation from Sonoma to the Citrus Fair on Wednesday and all pronounced the display beautiful. Among those who went to Cloverdale were Mrs. Robt. Poppe, Miss Emily Poppe, Miss Mamie Fochetti, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Bulotti, Miss G. Small, Mrs. G. S. Harris, Miss Humphreys, Miss Ella Bethune, G. H. Hotz, Miss Ruth Poppe, Misses McGimsey H. R. Dakin, Ray Poppe, Miss Wooster and Mrs. Julius A. Poppe.

Three Calves at one Birth.

A cow belonging to H. F. Sammons, a farmer on Huichica Creek between this place and Napa, gave birth to three calves one day last week. They were all well developed but died shortly after being born. The same cow had twin calves last year.

Business Change Rumored

It is rumored that S. A. Ringstrom has disposed of his business interest here, as has his partner Mr. Coghill, to Messrs. Paulstine and McGimsey. Mr. Paulstine formerly resided here, where he taught school, but has lately been associated with Tillman & Bendel in San Francisco.

REAL ESTATE DEAL

L. Quartaroli has purchased from Willlam Brown a five-acre tract of land fronting on Spain street and Third street East for $1,000. This tract, which is bounded on the North by the tracks of the California Northwestern Railway, will be used by the purchaser for a wine distributing depot. A fine large stone wine cellar will be erected on the site and spur tracks will be put in to facilitate the shipment of wine.

Mr. Quartaroli will engage in this business on a large scale.

GLEN ELLEN

By Aurora.

Mr. and Mrs. Lemoine were called to San Jose this week.

Miss Lottie Howard spent last Saturday in Santa Rosa.

Mrs. Smith and Miss Daisy Smith were visitors to Santa Rosa Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Gaige will move into their new cottage about March 1st.

The foundation has been laid for the new brick cottage being erected for J. Chauvet.

Frank Herd and Robt. Budgier left for Cordelia on Sunday, where they will remain several weeks.

Miss Crepin went to San Francisco Thursday to complete a course in delsarte and physical culture.

Mr. and Mrs. Will Ashe came up from San Francisco Saturday and spent until Sunday at their farm.

Judge Carroll Cook and wife have been rusticating at their picturesque ranch here for several days.

C. J. Poppe, Mr Hollinshead and Mr. and Mrs. Miner and daughter attended the Citrus Fair on Wednesday.

The head carpenter of the C. N. W. R'y has taken the measurements for a new oement platform for the depot here.

The mask ball was a big success. There were a great many costumes, handsome and grotesque, and all had a jolly time.

Miss Davidson of the Dunbar School and Miss Annie Quien were among those who went on the excursion to Cloverdale Wednesday.

Miss Lydia Ball of Fern Hills gave a tea on Friday to Capt. and Mrs. Warde, who are being extensively entertained prior to their trip abroad.

Glen Ellen is not so slow. It took just eight minutes to take out the inmates of the Home by means of the fire escape at the blaze last Saturday morning.

Mrs. Geo. Sievers entertained a number of children on Wendnesday at a delightful afternoon and on Thursday had for her guests Rev. Chakurian and wife.

The oyster supper given by the Ladies Aid was a big success socially and financially. When you hear some of our epicures singing that new song "Oysters and Clams" you will know that their thoughts are drifting back to that supper.

At the Grangers' entertainment on the 18th, at Mayflower Hall, General Wagner will give an address which is being looked forward to with much interest. Refreshments will be served by the Ladies Aid.

Mrs Robt Hill, who recently returned from Los Angeles, says there is no place like home and that she would not exchange her own back yard for all Southern California, which is a pretty compliment to Glen Ellen and vicinity.

The Ladies Improvement Club was banqueted by Mrs. C. C. O'Donnell at the Riverside Hotel last Saturday. Mrs O'Donnell was the club's delegate to the Federation Convention, of which she gave an interesting report. Her mother, Mrs. Gummer, was also present at the banquet.

A brand new patriot arrived at the Colson home on the 22d instant, and the little stranger ought to be christened George Washington since somebody else's birthday comes on the same day as the orginal. Mr. Colson, the happy father, is foreman of the Nau place.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dread disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer one Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.

PRETTY WEDDING AT LOCUST GROVE

Miss Ethel Pauli Becomes the Bride of T. Allen Smith on Patriot's Birthday.

A pretty wedding was solemnized on Wednesday at Locust Grove, the home of, Mrs. A. B. Lubeck south of town. Simplicity marked the nuptials of Miss Ethel M. Pauli and T. Allen Smith, who plighted their troth on as fair a day as ever did homage to a lovely bride.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. Partridge of Petaluma according to the Episcopalian rites. Mrs. Elmer Rowell, a sister of the bride, was matron of honor.

The bride, who is a handsome girl, was radiantly beautiful in a gown of cream veiling and lace. She donned no veil but wore a simple flower in her hair.

The decorations for the occasion were ferns and almond blossoms and the breath of springtime pervaded the atmosphere. All nature was in harmony with the happiness within, and if days are propitious surely this one, when God's golden sunshine shone down upon this couple at the altar, will bring joy and happiness forever.

Mr. Smith is the principal of the Dixon High School and a young man of excellent attainments.

His bride is not only blessed with beauty but also with winsome ways and a very sweet disposition.

A TWENTY-YEAR LEASE FOR BREWERY

S. Schocken and G. Kessler Enter into Agreement for the New Enterprise

S. Schocken has leased to G. Kessler of San Francisco a piece of land on Second-street East adjacent to the railway tracks for a brewery site.

A large three-story stone building will be erected by Mr. Kessler and a first class brewery will be operated.

Alfredo Again Tries Escape "Stunt"

G. Alfredo, noted for his escape "stunts" and who jumped through a car window while being brought here from Los Angeles by Deputy Sheriff Joe Ryan, is at his old tricks again.

He tried to escape from Deputy Sherriff Piezzi, while employed in wheeling wood from the jail yard to the Court House. Piezzi fired a shot after him, and a passer by captured the fleeing man. Alfredo at first feigned injury but was unhurt and taken back to the bastile.

Ramsdell is Welcomed Home

Harry Ramsdell, who has just returned from a six-weeks' trip to Europe, was welcomed home last night by his fellow-directors of the Olympic Club by a dinner in the grillroom of the club, The Hawaiian Quartett was in attendance. William Greer Harrison was toastmaster, and while the dinner was a directorate affair, the grill room was open and nearly all the members of the club dropped in to extend a welcome home.—Examiner.

Road Improvement.

The driving of piling alongside of Sonoma Creek, between Glen Ellen and Eldridge, where the road recently slid into the stream, has been completed. About fifty feet of piles were driven along the creek and these will be covered with heavy boards and the earth filled in behind for the purpose of making a roadway.

The concrete retaining wall, which formerly did service for the roadway, was broken in two by the slide of earth and went into the creek.

All Humors

AN ODD FISH.

Queer Marine Monster a Natural Enemy to Whales.

While operating at a fishery in Admiralty island, Alaska, one summer my attention and the attention of the fishing crew were almost daily attracted to a large marine creature that would appear in the main channel of Seymour canal and our immediate vicinity. There are large numbers of whales of the species rorqual there, and the monster seemed to be their natural enemy. The whales generally travel in schools, and while at the surface to blow one would be singled out and attacked by the fish, and a battle was soon in order.

It is the nature of the rorqual to make three blows at intervals of from two to three minutes each, and then sound deep and stay beneath the surface for thirty or forty minutes. As a whale would come to the surface there would appear always at the whale's right side and just about where his head would connect with the body a great long tail or fin, "judged by five fishermen and a number of Indians, after seeing it about fifteen times at various distances," to be about twenty-four feet long, two and one-half feet wide at the end and tapering down to the water, where it seemed to be about eighteen inches in diameter, looking very much like the blade of the fan of an old fashioned Dutch windmill.

The great club was used on the back of the unfortunate whale in such a manner that it was a wonder to me that every whale attacked was not instantly killed. Its operator seemed to have perfect control of its movements and would bend it back until the end would touch the water, forming a horseshoe loop; then with a sweep it would be straightened and brought over and down on the back of the whale with a whack that could be heard for several miles. If the whale was fortunate enough to submerge itself before the blows came, the spray would fly for a distance of a hundred feet from the effect of the stroke, making a report as loud as a yacht's signal gun.

What seemed most remarkable to me was that, no matter which way the attacked whale went or how fast (the usual speed is about fourteen knots), that great club would follow right along by its side and deliver those tremendous blows at intervals of about four or five seconds. It would always get in from three to five blows at each of the three times the whale would come to the surface to blow. The whale would generally rid itself of the enemy when it took its deep sound, especially if the water was forty fathoms or more deep. During the day the attack was always offshore, but at night the whales would be attacked in the bay and within 400 yards of the fishery.

I do not know of any whales being killed, but there were several that had great holes and sores on their backs. Questioning the Indians about it, I was told that there was only one, that it had been there for many years and that it once attacked an Indian canoe and with one stroke of the great club smashed the canoe into splinters, killing and drowning several of its occupants.—Forest and Stream.

Siam.

The worth thing that can happen to a man in Siam is to get into debt, from which there is never any escape, owing to the exorbitant interest charged. Once in debt there is no appeal, the debtor being stripped of his clothes and compelled to work in fetters, generally for the rest of his life, to pay the interest. Drunkards are not permitted to give evidence in the law courts of Siam. The Buddhist priests, clad in yellow robes, are to be seen everywhere in Bangkok, and it is quite common for young men to enter the priesthood, which affords them an easy and luxurious existence, owing to the liberality of the populace toward any one sanctioned to the service of Buddha.

A Chinese Columbus.

The belief in a Chinese Columbus was first allowed by scholars only in the first half of the last century. The claim is that a Buddhist priest in the fifth century crossed the Pacific to this continent and returned, making a written report of his discovery. The report still exists. It was translated into French in 1791 by M. de Guignes. It gave a narrative of a voyage eastward by a priest for 20,000 li, where he found a country which he named Fusang. People similar to the Indians were described, as well as American plants. The only doubt about the matter is as to the distance meant by 20,000 li. The priest may have reached only some island in the Pacific ocean.

Well Timed.

"That was a great sermon you preached this morning," said the old churchwarden, "and it was well timed too."

"Yes," rejoined the parson, with a deep sigh. "I noticed that."

"Noticed what?" asked the puzzled warden.

"That several of the congregation looked at their watches frequently," answered the old man, with another deep sigh.—London Telegraph.

An Unpardonable Fault.

Rhythm and time in the art of music have to come from the heart, not from the machine.—Dr. Joachim.

Startling but True

People the world over were horrified on learning of the burning of a Chicago theater in which nearly six hundred people lost their lives, yet more than five times this number or over 3,000 people died from pneumonia in Chicago during the same year, with scarcely a passing notice. Every one of these cases of pneumonia resulted from a cold and could have been prevented by the timely use of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. A great many who had every reason to fear pneumonia have warded it off by the prompt use of this remedy. The following is an instance of this sort: "Too much cannot be said in favor of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, and especially for colds and influenza. I know that it cured my daughter, Laura, of a severe cold, and I believe saved her life when she was threatened with pneumonia. W. D. Wilcox, Logan, New York. Sold by Shoults & Co.

It is possible to repeal a law, but not a banana.

Croup

Begins with the symptoms of a common cold; there is chilliness, sneezing, sore throat, hot skin, quick pulse, hoarseness and impeded respiration. Give frequent small doses of Ballard's Horehound Syrup (the child will cry for it), and at the first sign of a croupy cough apply frequently Ballard's Snow Liniment to the throat.

Mrs. A. Vliet, New Castle Colo., writes, March 19, 1901: "I think Ballard's Horehound Syrup a wonderful remedy, and so pleasant." 25c, 50c and $1.00. Sold by L. S. Simmons, prescription druggist, Sonoma, Cal.

Are You Restless at Night

And harassed by a bad cough? Use Ballard's Horehound Syrup, it will secure you sound sleep and effect a prompt and radical cure. 25c, 50c and $1.00. Sold by L. S. Simmons, prescription druggist, Sonoma, Cal.

Why Leaves Turn Brown.

The green matter in the tissues of a leaf is composed of two colors, red and blue. When the sap ceases to flow in the autumn the natural growth of the tree is retarded, and oxidation of the tissues takes place. Under certain conditions the green of the leaf changes to red. Under different aspects it takes on a yellow or brown hue. The difference in color is due to the difference in combinations of the original constituents of the green tissues and to the varying condition of climate, exposure and soil. Maples and oaks have the brightest c...

OBSCURE PASSAGES.

Lines Whose Meaning Was Not Clear to Their Authors.

A writer in London Truth recalls that Browning, when asked the meaning of a passage in "Sordello," replied, "Well, I know the poem had a meaning to me when I wrote it, but what it was I cannot now say." The writer goes on to quote parallel answers of Coleridge and of Goethe, which comforted him long ago, when he first transcribed them. Coleridge wrote the greater part of book 2 of Southey's "Joan of Arc" and annotated the long passage beginning, "Maid beloved of heaven," thus: "These are very fine lines, though I say it that should not, but hang me if I know, or ever did know, the meaning of them, though my own composition." Lord Francis Egerton, when translating "Faust," wrote to ask Goethe's explanation of a passage which puzzled him and received the reply that the poet himself was at a loss for its meaning. "Surely," runs his answer to Lord Francis, "you at twenty-four should know better than I at seventy-four the meaning of a passage I wrote at your age."

Understanding Poker.

The women believe that every man knows all about poker, but only a few men do. It is true, however, that nearly every man pretends to understand the game thoroughly. When there is a poker joke at a theater all the men smile and look at their women folks with a sort of pity, but the fellows who smile know very little about the game and are afraid to play it, for in almost every little social affair connected with chips and pairs there is a tin horn gambler industriously engaged in working chumps. The few men who really understand poker have a habit of winning the money of the men who pretend to understand it, so the large majority of men know nothing about the game further than that a good hand is hard to get.—Atchison Globe.

And She Believed It.

"Henry," said his wife, "what do you need to take so many bottles along for when you're only going fishing?"

"So we can have something to cork up messages in and throw overboard, dear," he replied, "if anything should happen to the boat."

"Oh, I see. Well, do be careful, Henry. I shall be awfully uneasy."—Chicago Tribune.

No Business Depression.

"Is your business good?" asked the burglar of the counterfeiter.

"Good!" repeated the counterfeiter. "Well, I should say it was. I have been making money."

Afraid of Strong Medicines.

Many people suffer for years from rheumatic pains, and prefer to do so rather than take the strong medicines usually given for rheumatism, not knowing that quick relief from pain may be had simply by applying Chamberlain's Pain Balm and without taking any medicine internally. Rev. Amos Parker of Magnolia, North Carolina, suffered for eight years with a lame hip, due to severe rheumatic pains. He has been permanently cured by the free application of Chamberlain's Pain Balm. For sale by Shoults & Co.

GAYBOY—Guess my wife expects callers today. What makes you think so? She began the day by making the house unfit for anyone to live in.

Itch—Ringworm.

E. T. Lucas, Wingo, Ky., writes, April 25th, 1902: "For 10 to 12 years I had been afflicted with a malady known as the 'itch.' The itching was most unbearable; I had tried for years to find relief, having tried all remedies I could hear of, besides a number of doctors. I wish to state that one single application of Ballard's Snow Liniment cured me completely and permanently. Since then I have used the liniment on two separate occasions for ringworm, and it cured completely. 25c, 50c and $1.00 bottle. Sold by L. S. Simmons, prescription druggist, Sonoma, Cal.

Health

Means the ability to do a good day's work without undue fatigue, and to find life worth living. You cannot have indigestion or constipation without its upsetting the liver and polluting the blood. Such a condition may be quickest and best and quickest obtained by Herbine, the best liver regulator that the world has ever known. Mrs. D. W. Smith writes, April 3, 1902: "I use Herbine, and find it the best medicine for constipation and regulating the liver I ever used." Price 50 cents. Sold by L. S. Simmons, prescription druggist, Sonoma, Cal.

Chamberlain's Cough Remedy the Mother's Favorite.

The soothing and healing properties of this remedy, its pleasant taste and prompt and permanent cures have made it a favorite with people everywhere. It is especially prized by mothers of small children for colds, croup and whooping cough, as it always affords quick relief, and as it contains no opium or other harmful drug it may be given as confidently to a baby as to an adult. For sale by Shoults & Co.

It will pay you to keep Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy in your home. It only costs a quarter. For sale by Shoults & Co.

The Winter Route East.

When you think of going East, think of the Texas & Pacific, the true Southern Route, as it is called.

We can plan for you an ideal Winter trip through the fertile San Joaquin Valley or down the picturesque coast line of the Southern Pacific via Los Angeles, journeying through the beautiful Orange and Olive groves of southern California, getting a glimpse of the Old World civilization of Old Mexico en route and on through the cotton fields of the Southland.
